ZENITH LEARNING - YOUR PARTNER IN EDUCATION
BEFORE AND AFTER-SCHOOL PROGRAMS ACROSS TEXAS

OCTOBER, 2018

MONTHLY TOPIC: TOLERANCE

Every month, the staff at the after-school program, Club Zenith, receives a packet of activities which include a character trait of the month. For October, the staff members will discuss the concept of tolerance and appreciation for others unique differences and abilities. We work hard to incorporate character in order to develop the whole child. In addition, the activity packets contain game-oriented lessons in math/science, cultural arts and crafts, literacy, team building, recreation, leadership and more. We choose each activity with your child in mind.

The afternoon program at Club Zenith is designed to be 'structured fun'. The activities are not driven by supplies; but by purposeful activities focused on developing social-emotional skills, in addition to enhancing the concepts learned during the school day. We design the groups to become small teams within the program, with exciting names, fun attention getters and engaging transitions. Together, they make up the whole Club Zenith. We are proud of what we do and want to be your partner in education, connecting the school to the home.

Guideline Reminders

Safety and security is a top priority for our program. Be sure to follow all guidelines in regards to child pick-up and showing photo identification. If your child is planning to be absent from the program, please notify staff members or ask the school to inform Zenith staff members. For security reasons, parents and guests may not enter back into the program, return to classrooms for items left or interact with other children. If you have questions, please talk with the site director at your child's campus.

If you are needing to cease enrollment at any time, please note there is a two-week drop notice and notice must be given through email at info@zenithlearning.org.

FAMILY ACTIVITIES

Club Zenith at one of our HISD Campuses

Ideas for family time at home:

High/Low - in the car, at the dinner table or just about anywhere, you can begin a round of high/low! Each person takes a turn of sharing his/her high (best of the day) and low (worst of the day) out loud. The catch is, no judgment. Anyone can share anything on their mind or hearts, but others can only listen and affirm. If someone doesn't like what is being said, they just nod and smile and thank the family member for sharing openly. The game ends when each person has a turn. The objective is to listen fully with an open heart.

Cheer - work together to create a family cheer! Make it rhyme or have each person add in a sentence. Whenever the family is all together, take a moment to begin a dinner or an outing with the family cheer!

Happy Jar - find an old jar or can, and three days a week (Mon/Wed/Sat) each person drops in a little note of what is making him/her happy! On New Years, sit and review the year's happy notes.
